TWELVE PAGES—THREE CENTS

INVESTIGATION OF WPA SOUGHT BY SENATORS

Claim Politics Have Entered Relief Projects

By Melbourne Christerson
Washington, March 16.—(AP)—Re-turning for a new investigation in his own state, Senator Holt (D-WV) an-nounced tonight he would demand a nation-wide senatorial inquiry into charges that politics have entered into the running of the WPA in many states.

At the same time Senator Davis (R-Pa) predicted that his resolution calling for a "full and complete" investigation of WPA would be approved by the Senate committee on expenditures in executive departments this week.

In a busy day during which President Roosevelt and his aides strove to shape a request for funds to finance the administration's relief program after next July 1, other top ranking developments were:

Speaker Byrnes hinted that the President's request for new relief appropriations would be under $1,000,000,000.

The United States conference of mayors renewed its drive for a $2,340,000,000 fund by making public statements from more than 50 mayors asserting that "LPA must come, at least on the present basis to employment, throughout the next fiscal year."

Senate Democratic leaders sought a man to head this year's campaign expenditures committee which may delve into charges that relief funds have been used for political purposes.

Holt said he would make his demand for a nation-wide investigation in a senate floor speech tomorrow in which he planned to renew his attacks on Harry W. Hopkins, WPA chief, and the West Virginia WPA set-up, which he charges is ridden with politics.

"If Hopkins is honest," Holt told reporters, "he will want an investigation."

Sentence Girl For Poisoning Her Family

14 Year Old Girl Pleads Guilty And Gets Seven Year Term

Hamlin, W. Va., March 16.—(AP)—A 14-year-old girl pleaded guilty to charges of poisoning her family and received a seven year reform school sentence today.

Buxom Judges Dillon stood before Circuit Judge Thomas R. Shepherd, admitted her guilt, heard him sentence her to the girl's industrial school at Salem until she is 21, then said:

"Well, that's a long time." Then, she was led back to her cell. Earlier, Elsworth Payne, her 16-year-old cousin whom prosecutor W. F. Demmon said conspired with Gladys to poison her parents and seven brothers and sisters, pleaded guilty to breaking into a home and was sentenced to the boys industrial school at Pruntytown until he is 21.

All the Dillon family recovered from the poison which Gladys said she mixed into flour used by her mother to bake biscuits and gravy.

Prosecutor Demmon quoted the girl as saying she mixed poison in the flour because her mother reprimanded her and denied permission to visit her sweetheart.

Unemployment Insurance Law Found Invalid

Attorney General Announces Quick Appeal To Higher Court

Albany, N. Y., March 16.—(AP)—New York state's unemployment insurance law was declared unconstitutional by a supreme court justice today and Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., immediately announced plans for a quick appeal to the court of appeals—the state's highest tribunal.

Supreme Court Justice Pierce H. Russell held the law invalid. He refused, however, to grant an injunction asked by the Associated Industries of New York state. He explained he did not wish to stop the state's job insurance machinery from operating before the court of appeals had passed on the law's constitutionality.

Today's decision came close on the heels of another by Supreme Court Justice William F. Dowling of Utica that the law was constitutional in all its provisions except that relating to strikers and discharged employees.

Argument of an appeal from this decision is scheduled to take place Thursday before the court of appeals. Justice Russell said he based his decision on the United States supreme court's due process interpretation in the railroad retirement board case.

The state law applies to employers who fire four or more persons. Benefits become payable March 1, 1937. Justice Russell said the state contended that industry creates unemployment and therefore should pay toward the cost of mitigating it.

New York state's unemployment insurance law is similar to the national law.

Governor Hoffman Would Question Dr. John F. Condon

Will Request "Jafie" To Appear At New Jersey State House

By Samuel Blackman
Associated Press Staff Writer
Trenton, N. J., March 16.—(AP)—Governor Harold G. Hoffman laid plans today to question Dr. John F. Condon, a prominent New Jersey physician, in connection with the state's investigation into the death of a young woman, Mary Jafie, who was found dead in a rooming house in New Jersey.

The date of the proposed interrogation was not fixed, depending upon the convenience of the elderly Bronx educator, who returns tomorrow from a Caribbean cruise, and upon his willingness to come to New Jersey.

The governor, who for several months has conducted a investigation of the crime for which Bruno Richard Hauptmann was convicted, suggested it was said that Attorney General David T. Wilentz and Anthony M. Hauck, Jr., Hunterdon county prosecutor, attend the questioning. The source said the governor would write Dr. Condon inviting him to come to the state house.

Whether he seeks to save Hauptmann from death in the electric chair two weeks hence, would participate was not decided. Fisher, who charged there were discrepancies in Dr. Condon's story of paying the ransom to Hauptmann, expressed a desire to attend.

The governor and Wilentz discussed the case at length this afternoon. Wilentz had conferred earlier with Hauck and Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the state police.

Robert Sweitzer Denies Charges

Chicago, March 16.—(AP)—A categorical denial of the county's allegations in a suit to collect $133,817 which he allegedly withheld from public accounts was filed in Circuit Court today by Robert M. Sweitzer, deposed county treasurer.

The bill alleged Sweitzer failed to turn over the sum to his successor as county clerk, an office he held for 24 years before he was elected treasurer in December, 1934.

One item of $200,000 was listed twice in the suit, the state's attorney's office explained, to cover possible legal loop holes.

Sweitzer was ousted as treasurer by the county board in June, 1935, after he was alleged to have withheld $144,129 from his successor in the county clerk's office, Michael J. Flynn. He was subsequently charged with withholding public monies, but was acquitted by a criminal court jury in November, 1935.

HANG-OVER KILLING

Sycamore, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—Harmon Crooke, 26, was indicted by the DeKalb county grand jury today for the "hang-over killing" of Mrs. Emma Anderson, 45, a crime which brought threat of mob violence.

Crooke confessed, the jury was told by arresting officers and the state's attorney, that he shot Mrs. Anderson when she refused to admit him to her DeKalb, Ill., grocery store on the night of March 5.

"I had such a hangover," he sighed in explanation.

FRESH TROUBLES BESET TAX BILL IN COMMITTEE

First Quarter Income Tax Totals Being Studied

By Douglas B. Cornell
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, March 16.—(AP)—Beset by fresh troubles in working out a $722,000,000 revenue bill, house committee tonight eagerly awaited the compiling of first quarter income tax totals for indications of whether they might be able to curtail the money raising program.

Some pinned hopes of avoiding new excises on processing of agricultural commodities, for this session, at least on the possibility that income tax payments might exceed treasury estimates.

The deadline for paying first quarter taxes and filing returns on 1935 incomes was midnight tonight. Telegraphic reports from collection districts over the country may enable the treasury to announce preliminary figures tomorrow.

Chairman Samuel B. Hill (D-Wash) of the house ways and means tax subcommittee asserted it "would help a lot" if income tax returns "show a very great increase over estimates."

"We don't have to go to processing taxes, but we shall have to go somewhere to get the $722,000,000," he said.

The subcommittee already has agreed tentatively on seeking $620,000,000 of extra federal income thru a levy of undistributed corporation earnings and income taxes on profits converted into dividends, but has reached no conclusion on where to get the remainder of the money needed.

President Roosevelt suggested that in addition to the $620,000,000 sought through cooperative tax revision, $517,000,000 be produced over two or three years by temporary levies. He suggested processing taxes on a broader base and a "windfall" levy to recapture a major part of returned, or unpaid, AAA processing taxes.)

W. C. Loeffler Acquitted Of Malfeasance

Jury Deliberates 6 Hours In Case Of Mayor Of Stickney

Chicago, March 16.—(AP)—William C. Loeffler, president of the suburban village of Stickney—in which the state charged remnants of the Al Capone "syndicate" had attempted to resume operations—was acquitted of a malfeasance charge by a criminal court jury tonight.

The jury deliberated less than two hours over the state's charges that Loeffler, countenanced unrestricted gambling, tax dancing and houses of ill repute in the suburb.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's police, had testified that Ralph Capone, brother of "Scarface Al" and other Capone followers had financed resorts in the suburb as an opening wedge in a "comeback" attempt.

The officers declared Loeffler was cooperator of the Capone alleged campaign to force their way into rackets in Stickney, but took no action against them.

Council for Loeffler countered that he was the victim of "a bold frame-up and perjury." The trial had been concerned principally with testimony of conditions in taxi dance halls and other resorts in the suburb.

Several taxi dance hostesses were placed on the stand as the state attempted to prove the practices in the resorts were of a vicious nature.

Inmates Fear Death; Escape

Salem, Ore., March 16.—(AP)—Dr. Roy Byrd, superintendent of the Oregon Penitentiary, said today five inmates, excited over a sociologist's discussion of mercy deaths for hopeless mental patients, fled from their ward last night.

Two were captured quickly. Three others are at large. One of the home claimed inmates became quite excited when they learned of a statement by Dr. E. B. Laughlin, Willamette University sociologist, advocating children cases beyond hope of rehabilitation be put to death with anesthetics.

Mrs. L. D. Idelman, head psychologist at the home, described scenes among the inmates as "pitiful."

"The patients are repeatedly asking whether they are to be chloroformed," she said. "They are badly excited and we may have more trouble unless they can be calmed."

INFECTION KILLS FARM HAND

Peoria, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—Rame McFarlin, 52, a San Jose, Ill., farm hand, died in a hospital today of infection which developed from a scratch on a finger. He suffered the slight injury two weeks ago while butchering, and lived only a few hours after being taken to the hospital today.

Holding Company Act Has Reached Supreme Court

Decisions Are Pending On Two Other Roosevelt Laws

By James W. Donahat
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, March 16.—(AP)—A fresh controversy over the constitutionality of New Deal legislation reached the supreme court today in a request for a ruling on the public Utility Holding company act.

Decisions are pending on two other Roosevelt administration laws—the Guffey coal control and 1933 "truth in securities" acts.

A case to test the right of the government to furnish PWA tribunals in time for decision before the June adjournment.

The appeal of the Holding company case was filed by Burco, Inc., of Baltimore, as the nine justices were leaving the courtroom today for a two week recess. They had delivered two minor opinions a few minutes earlier and refused to review twelve controversies appealed from lower courts.

During the next fortnight, the justices are expected to work on opinions in 24 cases argued recently, including those involving validity of the Guffey and securities measures.

At the end of the recess March 30, the court likely will announce whether it will pass on the Holding company controversy. In the meantime, the department of justice is expected to make known its position. Officials said today they had no comment pending a study. If the court agrees to review the case, arguments probably will be heard late in April or May.

Truck Farmer Kills Aunt And Takes Own Life

Forty Year Old Man Also Attacks Mother With Hatchet

Joliet, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—Lawrence Dvorak, 40, a truck farmer, killed his 74-year-old aunt today with a hatchet, used the same weapon in an attempt to kill his mother, then committed suicide with a rifle.

The dead man's mother, Mrs. Julia M. Dvorak, 70, said her son was apparently crazed by fear of losing his 2-acre farm, near Lockport, Ill. Dvorak was on relief.

Mrs. Dvorak saved her life by pretending she was dead. Lawrence leaped at his aunt, Mrs. Anna Feeney, without warning. Mrs. Dvorak said, and felled her with one heavy blow of his hatchet. Then he turned on her, she said, and inflicted several cuts on her right hand and arm, and a long gash on her head. She slumped to the floor.

Dvorak picked her up, and laid her across the body of the dying aunt. "I could hear Anna moaning, but I could not see her face because I was lying crosswise over her body," Mrs. Dvorak told Coroner E. A. Kingston. "I held my breath and pretended I was dead. Lawrence pretended over us and listened to Anna begging for water. He got her a glass, helped her to drink, then killed her with two more blows of the hatchet."

Dvorak bent over her, Mrs. Dvorak said, kissed her, said he was sorry, and then went into another room, placed the muzzle of a rifle in his mouth and shot himself.

Coroner E. A. Kingston said an inquest into the deaths would be held tomorrow morning.

Keeps Daughters Out Of School

Joliet, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—Josiah Watson will have to keep his daughters out of school again tomorrow if he wants to be cited for contempt of court and test his theories of education at home.

The WPA worker and former high school science teacher kept Frances, nine, and Esther, seven, home from school today in violation of an order issued last Friday by County Judge George N. Blatt.

But John Cowing, attorney for the school board, said he had not prepared written order for Judge Blatt's signature, and that Watson would have to wait until this was done. Cowing indicated things would be in order to cite Watson for contempt tomorrow.

Watson took his daughters out of school in January, protesting what he said were the "mechanized methods" of public schools.

BROTHERS UNITED

Springfield, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—Two brothers who had not seen each other for 30 years today were together again, reunited by the death of their father.

John Boyle, 44, of North Platte, Neb., and Bernard Boyle, 46, of Springfield, last saw each other in 1906 when their father, John Boyle, Sr., started on a trip through Western States and Alaska, accompanied by the younger son.

NEW AAA PLAN IS DELAYED BY LACK OF FUNDS

Senate And House In Tie-Up Over Supply Measure

Washington, March 16.—(AP)—Delay in starting the new soil conservation subsidy program was threatened tonight because of a Senate-House conference tie-up over a supply bill carrying the $440,000,000 appropriation for farm relief.

AAA officials, who had hoped to begin field operations Thursday, called legal advisors into hurried conferences to seek a legal way to start the program before the money is actually made available by Congress.

They said tonight, however, that so far no way had been found. A ray of hope for starting on schedule, however, developed when a House appropriations subcommittee made public testimony at hearings conducted last week on the farm funds which the Senate tacked onto the independent offices bill.

It was indicated that with these hearings out of the way, House conferences would be able to meet tomorrow with representatives of the Senate. Chairman Glass (D-Va.) of the Senate conferees said he was ready to meet "whenever the House conferees are ready."

After agreement is reached in conference, action is necessary in both House and Senate before the measure can be sent to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature.

The chief executive intends to start on his southern fishing trip Thursday, and unless the bill is transmitted to him before then, further delay might be occasioned in forwarding it to him in the south.

Neither Party May Have Two-Thirds Assembly Majority

Recommendations For Num- ber To Be Nominated Have Been Made

Springfield, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—A close division of the sixth general assembly next year with neither Republicans or Democrats holding a two-thirds majority, was assured today on the basis of senatorial districts' recommendations for the number to be nominated in each district in the primaries April 14.

With the eighth district committee undecided between one or two nominations, the Democrats will have a maximum of 35 candidates for the lower house in the November election. The Republicans with a similar dispute in the forty-seventh district, will have a maximum of 93 candidates.

There are 153 seats in the house and election of 77 will give either party a straight majority, but 102 members are needed for a two-thirds control.

By virtue of limiting nominations to three members between them, the committee in twenty districts eliminated all contests. Twelve districts will be represented by 2 Democrats and 1 Republican and eight by 2 Republicans and one Democrat. Thus the primary results will determine the identity of more than a third of the members of the next house, with the November election only perfunctory for 32 Democrats and 28 Republicans.

In only two districts did the Republicans recommend the nomination of three candidates. Those two were the tenth, Winchester and Cole counties, and the thirty-ninth, La Salle county, and in each of them the Democrats will nominate two.

In the thirty-second district the Republicans failed to report any recommendation and the secretary of state's office said that it would instruct county clerks there to make the ballot read for the nomination of three Republican candidates in case no report was received before the deadline at 5 p. m. tonight.

Democrats in the district, which includes Monmouth, recommended election of two candidates, and unless voters write in the name of a third Republican, only the two G. O. P. entrants will be nominated since only two men qualified for the primary by filing petitions.

Federal Income Tax Collections

Chicago, March 16.—(AP)—Federal income tax collections totaling $11,637,500, representing a 40 per cent increase over the corresponding period last year, were reported late this afternoon by Carter Harrison, collector of internal revenue.

The office remained open until 7 p. m., and returns by mail postmarked before midnight were acceptable without penalty, Harrison said.

The figures announced by the collector did not include mail returns accepted since Sunday night. The number of individual returns filed prior to today totaled 109,800, as against 83,800 for the corresponding date last year.

A tax of $894,000 was the largest on the records, followed by one of $733,000.

League of Nations Council Rejects Adolf Hitler Reply While France Seeks Censure

By Charles P. Nutter,
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

London, March 16.—(AP)—After hours of heated secret debates, the League of Nations Council decided tonight to attempt a quick disposal of the bitter controversy raised by Germany's repudiation of the demilitarized Rhineland.

League circles believed the council would adopt a joint Franco-Belgian resolution indicting Germany for infringing the treaties of Locarno and Versailles by tomorrow night and adjourn without discussing punishment of the Reich.

Germany received assurances tonight she can sit at the council table with full equality. But a second condition Adolf Hitler raised as a price of his acceptance of an invitation to be represented at the council sessions was rejected.

The council firmly rejected Hitler's demand that it take up his peace proposals substituting for the Locarno pact along with the question of his violation of Locarno.

Under British influence, the council washed its hands in secret today and avoided any public display of the controversy and bitterness over Germany's action.

A day-long meeting was held behind locked doors and at a 20-minute public session tonight Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin of France presented the council without comment a resolution branding Germany a violator of the treaties.

The public session was delayed for hours while lawyers quibbled over the wording of a telegram sent to Adolf Hitler advising him of the council's ruling on his conditions.

Locarno powers—Britain, France, Italy and Belgium—arranged to meet at 11 a. m. tomorrow to renew consideration of the grave situation resulting from Germany's denunciation of Locarno.

British spokesmen broadly hinted tonight they would attempt to secure an agreement to listen to Hitler's new security proposals instead of turning this meeting into one on ways and means of punishing Germany for its step.

What price the British would have to pay France for her co-operation in this direction remained undetermined tonight. In conference circles it was believed that nothing less than a mutual assistance pact in case of a German attack would satisfy France.

The prevailing view in league circles was that France may limit her attitude to demanding the dispatch of a stiff note to Berlin asking Hitler to evacuate the Rhineland—with economic and financial sanctions likely eventually to be demanded by France in event of Germany's refusal.

SOCIAL LOBBY BEING PROBED BY SENATORS

Members Of Congress Are Entertained Lavishly

By Richard L. Turner,
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, March 16.—(AP)—The senate lobby committee today probed into a detail of Washington's social lobby, eliciting testimony that a representative of western railroad and power companies had been entertaining lavishly for members of congress and once quartered six of them in his home.

While the committee prepared backstage to combat court attacks upon its authority to subpoena the telegrams of William Randolph Hearst, it obtained from Robert E. Smith of Portland, Ore., in open hearings, a reluctant recital of how "the boys" would gather in his home for dinner and a discussion of legislation.

His tale was interrupted before it had scarcely begun when a deputy marshal stepped into the committee rostrum to serve a subpoena on Chairman Black (D-Ala.) in the suit brought by Hearst. Before resuming the examination, Senator Schwelmerbach (D-Wash.) denounced the suit as an effort to obstruct the committee and said the "next step would be" for a marshal to "enter the senate chamber and stop proceedings there" with a subpoena issued in an injunction suit.

From the witness stand, Smith recited off a long list of house members who had been his guests, including a half dozen, who, during August of last year, shared his home in a fashionable section of Washington. They were Representatives Scroggins (D-Neu), Sutphin (D-NJ), Cary (D-Ky), Fiesinger (D-O), Clark (D-Ide), and Pettengill (D-Ind.). All expenses were split "seven ways," Smith said.

Pettengill, it developed, was the author of the piece of legislation in which Smith was most interested—a proposal to be voted upon in the house this week, under which the long-and-short-haul provision of the interstate commerce act would be repealed, permitting the railroads to reduce rates on through freight traffic.

Robert Hookers Win First Round

Carlisle, Ill., March 16.—(AP)—The Robert K. Hookers have drawn first blood in their legal jousts with bachelor Sheriff Dupeyron when he has told Jailer Hooker and his family their services no longer are needed by Clinton county.

A justice court today awarded Mrs. Hooker $216 for washing and ironing she did for the sheriff. Hooker, formerly a prison guard, asserts the sheriff also owes $375 for meals eaten at the Hooker table.

"And I intend to collect that board bill," said Hooker. "I won't vacate the jail until it is paid."

Sheriff Dupeyron said tonight he would appeal from the justice court verdict.

Hearing of a mandamus action filed by the sheriff to oust Hooker probably will be held tomorrow or Wednesday, States Attorney W. R. Murphy said.

Landon Wins 21 GOP Delegates

Oklahoma City, March 16.—(AP)—The Oklahoma Republican convention adopted the unit rule late today, assuring Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas the state's 21 votes for president at the national convention in Cleveland.

The state's six delegates-at-large were instructed to "vote and work for Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas for the presidential nomination and use every legitimate means to that end."

The delegates-at-large, with six district delegates already instructed for Landon, constitute a majority for the Kansas and will control the delegation under the unit rule.

Resolutions recommending re-election of W. G. Skelly of Tulsa as national committeeman and Mrs. H. H. Sayre of Ardmore as national committeewoman were passed easily.

The recommendations will be followed by the state's delegation, which fills the two positions.

HIT BY AUTO

Chicago, March 16.—(AP)—Robert Emmett Scone, 42, of 929 Sherman street, suburban Evanston, struck down early Sunday by a motorist who did not stop, was still unconscious tonight in Rogers Park hospital. Hospital attendants said Scone, formerly of Rockford, was suffering from deep lacerations on his head and a probable skull fracture. He was struck on Western avenue near Howard street.

Another Lincoln Story

Each Illinoiser has a story of Abraham Lincoln in the role of a successful attorney. Today the story of Mrs. Hannah Armstrong Munch is being told.

Mrs. Munch, 71, daughter of the late John Munch, a prominent Jacksonville attorney, died yesterday.

Records show the case began Aug. 28, 1897, at a Havana, Ill., camp meeting. James Metcalf sustained two wounds in a fight with several youths. He succumbed several days later.

William B. "Duff" Armstrong and James H. Norris were charged with murder. Norris was convicted. Lincoln and Duff's father, Jack Armstrong, were close friends and Duff's mother appealed to the future president to aid her son.

At the trial at Beardstown, a prosecution witness called "Allen" testified he had witnessed Metcalf's fatal blow from a distance of 100 yards. He named Duff Armstrong as one of the assailants. The bright moonlight, he added, afforded clear vision.

But Lincoln procured an almanac. He proved there was no moon that night. Armstrong was acquitted.

The above is a Lincoln story that should be familiar to local residents. The Armstrong trial at Beardstown supplied one of the scenes for the sentimental pageant given here in 1925.

The presentation at that time was highly dramatic. The death of Mrs. Hannah Armstrong Munch brings back this story from the distant past, and tells it the force of truth. Records of court proceedings of that early day bear out the story.

The slip in the testimony of the principal witness was the case for Lincoln. There are still almanacs that show the phases of the moon brought out each year; they are accurate, and there would be no question as to their evidence. Lincoln merely made use of a commonplace book to refute testimony which might otherwise have been accepted as fact. The incident has always been a tribute to Lincoln's resourcefulness.

Unfortunate Medivani Another of the Medivani has met a tragic death on account of a passion for sport. Prince Alexis liked to drive high-powered cars; he was killed in a crash in Spain more than a year ago.

His brother Serge liked to play polo; he met death the past week-end under the hoofs of his own polo pony during a game at Palm Beach, Fla. He had interrupted his honeymoon with his third wife to engage in polo matches.

The two were known as Georgian princes, sons of a Russian general, who fought in the armies of the Czar. The title of prince had been conferred upon the Medivani family early in the eighteenth century because of distinguished service to the ruling house of Russia. Today it is an empty title.

Because the present Russian government recognizes no title above that of Comrade, Comrade is even more acceptable.

The Medivani had a knack of marrying great wealth, but the talent was offset by the ease with which the wives could obtain divorces. Prince Serge was once indicted for alleged mismanagement of the family oil interests, but he was never convicted.

The life of the Medivani was colorful and romantic, but dangerous. With boom it was a choice between living intensely, or being a long time apparently, took the matter out of their hands when they chose to live as companions of danger, and oft to pull the whippers of death.

Solons Quote Scripture In a recent debate Illinois Senators at Springfield are reported to have quoted considerable scripture. The man who wrote up the verbal battle was astounded at the large amount of Biblical knowledge displayed among the solons. Finally one senator remarked that the Devil could quote scripture to his own purpose, and the reporter wondered why that particular bit of scripture had not been previously quoted.

There is a large amount of scripture which the Senators might take for aidance in their legislation. We people who read about accidents and say to themselves, "Yep, it happened to those people, but it can't happen to me."

In the last picture I made in Hollywood, they made me sing all day and milk a cow in the bargain. I don't mind milking a cow or two in the course of a day, but also to sing all day is something else again.

In our everyday functions, not all of them are mere plotters and schemers, pushers and gold-diggers and scoundrels. We are filled with the competitive spirit. Dog eat dog. Get all you can, can all you get.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

If There's a Federal Housing Policy, No One Can Tell What It Is... Rent Subsidies Might Be the Answer... Big Interests Naturally Oppose Program... Study Ends in One Grand Mixup.

Washington—The best thing you can say about the New Deal housing policy—or the lack of it—is that the situation hardly can get messier than it is.

Senator Bob Wagner of New York, who realizes that New York has had slums and that it would be nice to clean up the poor in pretty permanent fashion, is heading for a "portmanteau" bill for housing for a few species and since January he has been on the verge of introducing a bill for a great housing program.

No one has seen the Wagner bill yet, however, and perhaps no one will. The senator wants administration support and the administration is divided, vague, and cloudy-minded.

Roosevelt recently complained that his advisers couldn't agree and those who know the inside of the housing issue insist that's just like bemoaning the lack of agreement between Italians and Ethiopians as to the future of Abyssinia.

Just What the Jam Is A background sketch of the problem may help you understand the current jam.

A growing housing shortage finds the building industry constructing homes which only 15 per cent of families can afford. About 10 per cent of city wage earners have annual incomes below $1,500, with a medium of $900.

Practically everyone agrees that dwellings should be provided for the $900 to $1,500 income group. The only attempt at that now being made is through a few subsidized and experimental-demonstration projects of the Resettlement Administration and the PWA Housing Division, which hope to show what can be done to reach groups between $800 and $1,500.

Recognized housing experts agree that adequate housing for the lower income groups requires subsidies of from 40 to 50 per cent, depending on location. A 50 per cent capital grant for housing is equivalent to about a 25 per cent subsidy on rent.

Reasons Given for Plan Any kind of public housing program means redistribution of income.

Journal, Courier Safety Drive is Cooperative Move

Attempt to Prevent Traffic Accidents Through Better Safety Observance

There are many firms, organizations, and newspapers preaching safety in one form or another, all of them striving for a common goal. That goal is fewer lives sacrificed on the altar of recklessness. In and around Jacksonville, the Journal and Courier have taken up the crusade as a section-wide campaign to reduce traffic casualties. These newspapers are co-operating with many agencies to do something about the increasing toll of lives and injuries caused each year by careless operation of automobiles.

During the preliminary stages of the campaign, workers in charge of the safety crusade have heard many interesting observations. Here are a few of them:

This from a Watervly citizen: I hope you can get something done about Jacksonville traffic. I had my automobile parked according to the code prevailing in the city, and twice I have returned to find it bumped and damaged.

From an Alexander citizen: I believe I am the oldest automobile driver in Morgan county. I began driving when old high wheel "gas buggies" first came on the market, and I've been driving ever since. I notice that today automobile manufacturers are stressing the safety angles of their machines instead of speed. I believe this is a step in the right direction.

From innumerable people: The Journal and Courier are to be congratulated on their efforts to reduce traffic casualties. Little thoughtless things that motorists do cause accidents. The efforts of the newspapers to point out how these thoughtless things cause accidents are highly commendable and deserve the attention of every motorist and pedestrian.

From a few other people: I don't believe the Journal and Courier need to tell me how to drive a car. (The answer to that is that the Journal and Courier are not attempting to tell anyone how to drive a car. The newspapers are pointing out ways to avoid accidents in its daily illustrations in the "Traffic Safety Game".)

A few have remarked: What good will this campaign do? (The newspapers are unable to answer that one at present. They hope that it will reduce the number of lives lost, the amount of money lost, and the amount of grief. The newspapers hope to have the entire section unite in an effort to make the highways safer through more co-operation, and, if necessary, a more strict law enforcement program. It may be your life that will be saved by more strict observance of the principles of safe automobile operation. The answer to the question will be recorded at the end of the year.)

Many have asked: What are the newspapers getting out of this? (Nothing, but the pleasure of trying to do something worth-while. It is giving its support to a traffic safety campaign because over 35,000 persons were killed in automobile accidents last year, and over a million were injured—a large number of them needlessly. There is no advertising being sold in connection with the campaign, although many merchandise men are advertising safety devices and precautions. This section contributed its share to the nation's total. The newspapers hope to do their part toward reducing the number of deaths and injuries in this part of the state.)

Safety workers have heard many interesting comments on the causes of accidents. Many persons blame the large number of accidents on young people, a fact which is not upheld by a study of police accident records. Others blame the rising number on liquor, but liquor alone can not be blamed for all of them. It is just one of the causes that the newspapers, through their campaign, hope to reduce.

Take Wreck Victim To State Hospital

Carrollton Woman Found to Be Insane as Result of Serious Injury

Carrollton, Ill.—Relatives here received word Saturday from the Macomb County hospital at Carrollton, requesting them to have Miss Margaret Marie Jackson of this city, removed from the hospital to an institution for the insane. The McIntosh ambulance went to Carrollton, and brought Miss Jackson here for a hearing on sanity before County Judge L. A. McArthur. The doctors at the hospital had pronounced her of unsound mind and she was committed to the State Hospital at Jacksonville.

Miss Jackson is one of the critically injured victims of a motorized train and a sedan crash in Montgomery county on route No. 108 and the C. B. & Q. R. R., about nine miles east of Carrollton, Feb. 25. In this crash Mrs. John Jackson and Mrs. Foreman Jackson, grandmother and mother respectively of Miss Jackson, and Ray Reeves of Champaign, a friend, were instantly killed and Foreman Jackson, her father received injuries which are still very serious.

Miss Jackson suffered very serious skull fractures and head injuries and since being taken to the hospital, very little hope for her life has been entertained. She has been in an unconscious or semi-conscious condition and at times she has been violent. The hospital officials deemed it best to have her removed to an institution which is better equipped for the handling of such cases. After the judge here signed the papers, she was taken to Jacksonville.

Myrtle Tillery of Mt. Gilead, who recently underwent an operation at Our Saviour's hospital, Jacksonville, left the hospital Wednesday and came to the home of his aunt, Mrs. Oscar Craue in this city where he will stay for a few days.

Clair Carmody of Kana is recovered sufficiently to be back on his job as rural mail carrier after an illness of several days.

Dennis Vaughn is back at work after a three weeks' siege of pneumonia. Mrs. Delbert Driver entertained the members of her bridge club at her home Saturday night.

Flood Clutters Highways With Chunks of Floe Ice

First closed to all but boat traffic by the overflow from flooded Creek Locks at Rosendale, N. Y., this road was left impassable by the huge blocks of ice left behind when the water receded. Thawing of the vast accumulations of ice and snow of which the chunks are fragments is largely to blame for the road conditions that took more than 10 lives and did extensive damage in eight northeastern seaboard states.

John: "How's the new home, Tom?"

Tom: "Fine, why don't you buy a home instead of paying rent?"

John: "I can't afford to buy a home."

Tom: "How much money have you paid out in rent the past ten years?"

John: "Why let's see! $30 a month."

Tom: "Well, that's $3600. It would have paid for a home if it were financed the Savings and Loan way. The payments are like rent. You pay principal and interest monthly."

John: "That sounds easy enough. I'm going to investigate the Savings and Loan plan today. You say the Savings and Loan Association is in the Applebee Building on West State Street? I'll go right down and talk to the secretary."

Each Puff Less Acid A LIGHT SMOKE OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO

For twenty-five years the research staff of The American Tobacco Company has worked steadily to produce a measurably finer cigarette—namely, a cigarette having a minimum of volatile components, with an improved richness of taste—"A LIGHT SMOKE."

We believe that Lucky Strike Cigarettes embody a number of genuinely basic improvements, and that all these improvements combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—"A Light Smoke."

Bridge Prizes Stay Home at This Party

Four Members of One Family Win All Honors; Audit Bears Out Scores

Jerseyville.—A most unusual incident occurred at a party given by Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Ryan at their home on South State street when it was found that all four prizes awarded at the affair were won by relatives of the hosts.

The guests played buncio and when the scores were added, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dodson of St. Louis, brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Ryan, held the low scores for the evening; their son, Victor Dodson, had piled up the high score for the men and his wife held the high score for women. Mrs. Ryan declared this was the "most embarrassing moment of her life" when she made the discovery and she called upon an "auditing committee" among the guests to re-count the scores but it was found that the first count was correct.

The party was given in honor of Mrs. Bessie McMahon of Marissa, Ill., who was a house guest at the Ryan home, and she was awarded the guest prize.

Those present at the party included Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Glassbrenner, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Sengo, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Large Audience at Central Church to Hear Mrs. Wakefield

Sister of Vachel Lindsay in Address Sunday Tells of Oriental Notables

A large audience enjoyed the address of Mrs. Olive Lindsay Wakefield, at Central Christian church Sunday evening. Her theme was "Chinese and Japanese Friends I Have Known."

Mrs. Wakefield has a personal acquaintance with General Chang Kai Shek and his family. They are Christians and have exerted a great influence for good upon modern China. She indicated the necessity for a synthesis of Eastern and Western thought. The difficulties in modern China arise chiefly because of the large extent of territory, the very large population and the lack of unity due in part to so many different dialects.

Mrs. Wakefield, with her husband, Dr. Paul Wakefield, lived for many years at Luchowfu. Later they lived in Wuwu, one of the educational centers of China.

Mrs. Wakefield expressed her conviction that the Japanese people have prior claim to Manchuria; therefore she does not consider the Japanese out of place in occupying this territory. She gave Kagawa a high compliment in his co-operative work and expressed the belief that he will accomplish great things by his six months' sojourn in this country.

During the last half hour of her message, Mrs. Wakefield read a number of poems written by Vachel Lindsay, her brother. She mentioned the fact that the first poem which he wrote that was generally recognized and that made him famous was the one entitled, "General Booth Enters Heaven."

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

It's too bad you can't use insecticide on your friend's buggy ideas.

Heaven. This was written in California when he had ended a long hike across the country stopping at homes of all classes of people reading his poetry and presenting a small pamphlet entitled, "Rhymes Exchanged for Bread." He had been very greatly impressed from boyhood by the work of the Salvation Army as they moved about the Court House Square in Springfield. On reaching California, he learned of the death of General Booth and wrote this poem.

Mrs. Wakefield indicated that some of Mr. Lindsay's poems have been placed in public school readers. She read most acceptably many poems including the "Conce" one of his famous poems which was written in Springfield following a sermon by his pastor, Dr. F. W. Burnham.

Mrs. Wakefield alluded to the fact that Vachel frequently indicated that there was no other way for him to express the thoughts of his mind and the desires of his heart except through lyric poetry. She held her large audience for nearly two hours. Mrs. Wakefield while in this city was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Pontius. She returned to Springfield yesterday where she spoke to the Springfield Rotarians last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Tipps will make their home on a farm northeast of Jacksonville.

FOR DIGESTION'S SAKE—SMOKE CAMELS

L'AIGLON, IN CHICAGO, RENOWNED FOR ITS CONTINENTAL CHARM AND CUISINE. In this famous and delightful place, known for years to connoisseurs, Camel cigarettes are a popular favorite with diners. "Teddy," (left) genial host to the lively crowd you see in the picture above, says: "We find our patrons know not only good cooking, they know good tobacco. Camels are the most popular cigarette among L'Aiglon guests."

150-POUND DYNAMO! Tommy Bridges, of the World Champion Tigers, says: "Ball players have to watch digestion. I find Camels a real aid in helping digestion. They set me right!"

WIZARD ON SKIS, Sig Buchmayr, says: "It seems to me that after good food there's nothing like smoking a Camel to aid digestion and build up a fine feeling of well-being."

Smoking Camels eases tension—stimulates digestion—and fosters a feeling of well-being! . . .

Again and again, we make up for lost time by eating in a hurry. Digestion must meet the strain. How fortunate that smoking Camels during and after meals definitely stimulates digestion and helps to ward off the effects of our hurried, nerve-racking life—by aiding and restoring the natural flow of the digestive fluids. Today, the pleasure of smoking Camels is being everywhere recognized as a comforting and healthful part of the art of dining. Camels are incomparably mild. They never get on your nerves or tire

STEEPLEJACK JOE BECK: "Many a time my stomach tightens in a high spot—but you wouldn't know it from the hearty way I eat. I'm very careful about keeping good digestion—I smoke Camels. They help to stimulate my digestion."

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

A. basketball league last night on the David Prince court when the Smith Indies continued their reign over the local basketball teams by winning from the Browns Business College five by a 32-30 score, and the A. & P. store team slipped up on the Speedboys with a 21-20 score. Steinheimers, led by Al Cochran, defeated the Murrayville entry with a 21-20 decision.

The Speedboys were behind only one point at the end of the first quarter of their game with the A. & P. and tied the count at 8 all at the end of the first half. A. & P. was back in front 16-15 at the three quarter mark.

WINTER PLAYS HAVOC WITH ALL WILD GAME

Chicago. (P)—The winter of 1936 was adjudged the greatest of all winters today.

Wild life stocks were reduced sharply in northern states from South Dakota to New York, a survey showed, by the ice, snow, and low temperatures of the coldest weather in years.

So severe was the winter that four states—South Dakota, Oklahoma, Kansas, and South Carolina—have ordered or are considering closing seasons this year to replenish depleted stocks.

Reports from twenty-seven state conservation commissions also revealed that Michigan and Arkansas have ordered state-wide surveys to determine the extent of the losses—greater than in previous years despite increased appropriations by sportsmen for grain and hay when natural food supplies were shut off.

CHANGES PLANS

San Antonio, Tex., March 16.—(P)—John A. Heydler, chairman of the National League board, has changed his mind about cancelling an inspection of the Pirates training camp.

Word came from Laredo today he probably will attend a pair of exhibition games tomorrow and Wednesday.

WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Pittsburgh, March 16.—(P)—Carnegie Tech vanquished the Pitt Panthers 32 to 27 tonight to win the basketball championship of the eastern intercollegiate conference in a play-off game.

At the half Pitt was ahead 20 to 19. Earlier the Panthers, holders of the conference crown since the circuit was formed four years ago were ahead 17 to 7.

LOUGHEAN WINS

Bristol, Eng., March 16.—(P)—Tommy Loughran, veteran Philadelphia heavyweight, outpointed Jack London in a ten round bout tonight.

Philadelphia, March 16.—(P)—The need for more kick in the Phillies' batting punch has started the talk of a Chuck Klein for Curt Davis deal with the Chicago Cubs again.

Weeks ago the rumor was around that the Phils wanted their old slugger back and were willing to part with their top hurler to get him. Now that the training sessions have displayed a noticeable lack of long distance clubbing, baseball circles are again talking of trade possibilities.

From the Winter Haven training base in Florida, comes Manager Jimmy Wilson's word:

"I've got plenty of pitching, real pitching. What worries me is hitting. If we hit, we'll go places."

The three grapefruit league games so far have demonstrated no such hoped-for hard hitting or safe blows in the pinches, and many seem to think Klein's return would provide the kick.

During the previous discussions on such a trade, the Phils turned down one proposition, because they believed Davis was worth more to them than the terms offered.

How the situation stands now is not known, but is readily agreed that to obtain Klein's return, Wilson would have to part with Davis.

The Phils and Cubs met at Winter Haven later in the month, and the baseball writers boys are keeping their eyes peeled on that get-together for possible business dealings.

Boston Bees Win From Tigers 5-4

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 16.—(P)—After drying out their soggy training diamond with gasoline fires, the Boston Bees opened their spring exhibition schedule today by defeating the world champion Detroit Tigers, 5-4.

A 5,000 crowd included President Will Harridge of the American League. Rookie Gene Moore started the Bees' scoring with a first inning homer. Tony Cucinello aided the Boston cause by getting a single, double and triple off three Tiger pitchers.

Two of the Detroit runs were unearned, one resulting from Jim Chaplin's balk and another from two consecutive errors.

County and District Champions

Champions of Greene county for the fifth time in ten starts, and district champions, Roodhouse high is proud of the lads pictured above. These ten boys kept the Roodhouse escutcheon flaunting in the faces of their rivals all season long and picked up championships in two tournaments.

Five of the boys, John and Bob Edwards, Smith, Holmes and McConathy, will be graduated this spring, but all of the boys pictured in the back row above, will be back for next season, and some of them are husky lads who gave a lot of promise this season of putting Roodhouse right up in the fight for basketball laurels as well as for football titles.

This is Coach Campbell's first year

as chief of the athletic department at Roodhouse, and his charges have won the Illinois Valley football championship, and now have added two additional laurels to their season. They are going after more athletic glory on the track and field this spring, sandwiching in their spring football with track training.

Here is the Roodhouse record for the year:

Classy Horses In Kentucky Derby

By Orlo Robertson.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
New York, March 16.—(P)—The Blue Grass country will be represented by at least two powerful candidates in the Kentucky Derby if H. B. Price Headley's Hollywood and C. B. Shaffer's Coldstream face the barrier at Churchill Downs, May 2.

Both showed speed and stamina last year to gain high rank among the two-year-olds. They are bred to the Derby route of one and one-quarter miles. Despite an unusually severe winter at Lexington, they are far advanced in training.

"I couldn't be better satisfied with my colts' condition had I wintered in some balmy southern climate," declared Headley.

Alec Gordon, the wily Scot who conditions Coldstream, is equally satisfied.

Until Brevity flashed his record-equalling one and one-eighth miles in the Florida Derby, Hollywood was rated on par with J. E. Widener colt and Coldstream only a notch or two lower. Hollywood has received the strongest support in the future books and off his juvenile form figures to give any horse a run for the major share of the $40,000 purse.

Both colts have missed being outside only a few days this winter and have been taking short breezes for some time over a turf course. Hollywood will be shipped to Aqueduct the latter part of this month to finish his training. Coldstream will stay in Kentucky, putting on the finishing touches at Churchill Downs. Headley plans to give Hollywood a couple of races before the Derby, probably including the Wood Memorial at Jamaica, April 25.

A son of High Cloud out of the good producing mare, Mandy Hamilton, Hollywood won five of his 16 starts as a juvenile and earned $6,745—figure that placed him second only to Marshall Field's Tintagel.

Coldstream won only $16,150 in taking six of his 13 races last year, but like his sire, Bull Dog, he proved to be a mighty tough horse to beat in the stretch.

Cardinals Wallop Dodgers 9 To 3

Bradenton, Fla., March 16.—(P)—Paced by Virgil Davis and John Mize, the St. Louis Cardinals collected 12 hits off four rookie hurlers as they defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 9 to 3 in an exhibition baseball game today.

Davis connected with a triple and a single. Nelson Potter and Jim Winford kept the Dodgers' 12 blows well scattered. Wayne Osborne, Jake Houtekamer, Bill Lowe and Channing Parmelee divided the Brooklyn mound assignments.

Former Teacher is Burned to Death at Home in Carrollton

Miss Frances Clark Victim of Blaze Sunday When Stove Ignites Shawl

Carrollton—Miss Frances E. Clark, 44, for many years a teacher in the rural schools of Greene county, was burned to death about 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning at her home in the southwest part of this city. Her clothing was burned away and her body burned to a crisp.

How she caught fire is not known. She was alone in the dining room, where a fire was burning in a heating stove. It is believed the fire in the stove ignited a shawl the victim was wearing.

Her sister, Miss Elizabeth Clark, had gone to the basement to tend the furnace. Miss Alice Norton, who lives at the Clark home, had gone to church. Miss Elizabeth heard her sister scream and ran to the dining room. She found Miss Frances on the floor enveloped in flames.

Michael Fisher, who resides next door, also heard the screams and ran to the Clark home. He said, Miss Clark's clothing was burning when he arrived. State Patrolman Lucius Woods, who lives across the street, also answered the call for help. He stated that all of the clothing had been burned away, except part of the skirt. A table cloth on a table nearby was also burning. Woods said Miss Clark was dead when he arrived.

The blaze was easily extinguished. The body was removed to the Simpson undertaking parlors. Coroner R. J. Shields held an inquest at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Jurors at the inquest were George Andrews, Arthur Haddock, John Pahlman, John Heraty, John J. Hogan and Keith Sturmon. The verdict was death from accidental burns.

Miss Clark taught school in Greene county early in life but retired many years ago. She is survived by her sister, Miss Elizabeth, and several nieces and nephews residing in western states.

Miss Clark was a member of the Carrollton M. E. church, where funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, with interment in the city cemetery.

Socialite, Starlight, Highlight!

The highlights that reflect the features of this charming young socialite come from the light of stardom that she sees shining before her, in her new film career. The music was exceptionally good. Donald Litterer gave a beautiful rendition of "Sun of My Soul" by Hahn as a solo and the choir under Miss Whitlock's direction sang "The Rest of the Soul" by Heyser. All other services for the day were well attended.

Borah, Knox Open Illinois Drives During This Week

Candidates For Presidency Will Visit Many Down State Counties

Chicago—(AP)—Senator William F. Borah and Col. Frank Knox, seeking the endorsement of the state voters in the April 14 primary, slipped into the ring this week to begin their only scheduled test of strength as rival aspirants to the Republican presidential candidacy.

Col. Knox, who last week said "our chief concern is to win the Illinois primary," stands a six-day speaking tour downstate on Wednesday.

Senator Borah invades the state Saturday. His Illinois manager, Attorney Edgar Cook, said a speaking tour was planned for the last week of March, winding up with an address at Fairfield, Ill., where the Idaho senator was born.

Followers of Col. Knox have long claimed the state as his undisputed territory. The state Republican central committee and the Cook county (Chicago) central committee gave their endorsements to the publisher last fall.

The publisher's manager, Edward A. Hayes, predicted Col. Knox will have an "overwhelming majority" April 14.

Cook, chairman of the Illinois Borah-for-president committee, asserted his candidate ranked well above Col. Knox in current sentiment.

Cook, abandoned plans for a court fight to have Borah's name placed at the top of all ballots in the primary. He said Borah instructed him not to start the action. Cook held that Borah's name, if placed first, should have been listed first in all legislative districts, but that actually the name of Col. Frank Knox was placed first in the even numbered districts.

Col. Knox made his first Illinois appearance at a dinner meeting in the Wolford hotel, Danville, to which Republican leaders of east-central Illinois have been invited. A mass meeting in the Danville armory follows.

Thursday the candidate appears at a luncheon meeting in the Abraham

Probe of Campaign Spending Planned; Hunting Chairman

Indicate Will Be Deeper and More Far-reaching Than Any Previous One

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, (AP)—With campaign money already pouring out, Senate Democratic leaders gave attention today to selection of a man to head the committee which will investigate this year's election expenditures.

Senate campaign expenditures committees have played prominent roles in campaigns of the past, but there are indications this year's will be more important than ever before. It will undoubtedly be asked to inquire not only into campaign funds proper, but also into charges of using relief funds for political purposes.

Senator Hastings (R., Del.) is seeking to have the Senate specifically authorize inquiries into the use of relief funds.

But many senators contend that regardless of the fate of the Hastings move, the committee will have full authority to make such investigations. The wording of the resolution to create the committee, as proposed by Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, would give it power to inquire into any use of influence on voters.

With the election eight months off, both parties are pouring money into the campaign. Reports recently filed with the House show expenditures far above normal for this time of year.

Democratic leaders have a comparatively narrow field from which to choose members of the investigating committee. Only senators from states in which senatorial elections are not being held this year are eligible. That eliminates about two-thirds of the Senate membership.

The charges of Senator Borah of Idaho that "the Standard Oil Company" has tried to influence the selection of convention delegates in Oklahoma, brought sharp denials from several officials.

The Idahoan, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, suggested that the campaign funds committee investigate the "facts."

Roodhouse Homes Are Damaged By Fires On Roofs

Fire Smothers 300 Chick At Barber Home; One Hurt In Accident

Roodhouse, March 16.—Two homes in Roodhouse were menaced by fires today that started from chimney sparks and burned holes in the roofs. The fire department made a run at 7:30 o'clock this morning to the Wilburn Simmons house, and at 11:15 a. m. to the home of Robert Filson, Jr.

The damage in both cases was confined to the roof and was completely covered by insurance. Saturday night, however, fire took a more serious toll at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barber, one half mile east of Roodhouse. A coal oil stove ignited the wooden floor of a brooder that housed 300 three-day-old chicks. Smoke and burning oil fumes suffocated all but three.

Sufferers Fractured Arm. Two cars were seriously damaged and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Steelman suffered a fractured arm this afternoon at 4 o'clock when the Model T, Ford driven by her father collided with a Model A on the St. Louis hard road in Roodhouse.

The latter machine was driven by John Boyd of Alexandria, Virginia, and was reported to be traveling south at a moderately fast speed. His wife and three children were in the car. They approached the intersection too late to see the Steelman auto driving onto the slab. In an effort to avoid a crash, Boyd swerved to the right and sideswiped into the other car, avoiding a more serious collision.

The occupants of the Virginia car were uninjured, but Miss Steelman's arm was broken and her father and mother were shaken and bruised about the chest.

Both cars were damaged.

Discuss N. R. S. At Church Club Meet

Ralph Easley Is Speaker At Monday Meeting Of Group Here

An illuminating address on the plan and purpose of the National Reemployment Service, was heard at the monthly meeting of the Men's Federated Church Club held last night in the Congregational Church.

"The National Reemployment Service" was the theme of the address of the evening made by Ralph Easley, the district manager of the "N.R.S." Last Saturday night there were 1675 persons in Morgan County out of work and registered in our office," said Mr. Easley. "Our great job is not only to help them find work, but to find the work for which they are best fitted. Thru our service persons may be helped to find employment wherever that opportunity may be—whether locally or anywhere from Alaska to Florida. Likewise, it helps the employer to find suitable help, wherever that help may be. Another task toward which we are striving is to help the unemployed to a better understanding of himself and his needs, and how to prepare himself to take advantage of the available jobs."

During the past five years some 600 to 700 youths have graduated from Jacksonville high school and colleges, and only 25% of them have found employment. Types of employment is changing rapidly. While 12,000 occupations are recorded at the present time in the government "code lists," a like number—12,000—became extinct between 1900 and 1930. Today 2,700 coal miners in Macoupin County are out of work; displaced by machinery. Right here in Roodhouse 250 experienced railroad men are out of work. Likewise, multitudes of farm-hands in our own community are out of work, many of whom will probably never again be employed on farms.

The National Reemployment Service—the N.R.S.—is not just another alphabetical agency. It was set up to meet a very real need. It is a part of the U. S. Employment Agency. Salaries, and information blanks only, are provided thru the Federal government, the office and other expenses being provided by the County.

The Employment Service neither hires nor fires—it only refers applicants to employers.

A duplicate of all applications received locally is filed in Washington, D. C., and any changes on these records are at once sent to Washington. From these, information as to changing trends in employment in the various parts of the country are quickly assembled thru a system of code markings. Last October 17,000,000 men, women and young people were recorded. On January 1st 8,387,000 were still on the active list.

Following the address by Mr. Easley John Curtis, manager of the local office was introduced and made a few remarks.

The next meeting of the club will be on April 20th, at the State Street Presbyterian Church, at which time C. Holmes of Quincy, will speak on "The Ministry of the Gideons"—that organization of Christian business men of America, who have been responsible for placing hundreds of thousands of copies of the Bible in the hotels and lodging houses of our country.

Clubs Meet In Greene County

Just-A-Mere And Dinner Bridge Organizations Meet; News Notes

Roodhouse, Ill., March 16.—The Just-A-Mere club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Carroll Fanning in White Hall. Guests of the club were Miss Helen Worcester and Mrs. Edward Roodhouse. The afternoon was spent with needle work.

Dr. and Mrs. N. J. Bucklin were host and hostess to the Dinner Bridge club at their new home of East Palm street on Thursday evening. The party was in the form of a housewarming for the Bucklins. The guests came in full evening dress. The Bucklins served to their guests a bounteous turkey dinner.

News Notes. An exceptionally large group of men and boys gathered at the tables in the dining room of the Christian church Thursday for an evening of feast and fellowship together. Two large tables extending full length of the spacious dining room were beautifully decorated in sweet peas contributed by Mrs. Rimbey, with the table service set in an attractive style. The ladies of Mrs. H. W. Smith's class proved their adeptness in preparing the bounteous feast in the kitchen. The girls of Mrs. H. M. Battershell's class served the tables in an exceptionally attractive manner.

Marching to the dining room to the music rendered by Mrs. William Reese at the piano, the men took their places at the tables and paused for the Dextology and remained standing while Grace was spoken by Mrs. H. M. Battershell. During the meal songs were interspersed, led by Mrs. Harold Bass. The address of the evening for the group was delivered by W. F. Gibbons which was delivered in a very interesting manner. Charles Fugger gave the toast to the fathers and pointed out that to a boy his "pa" knows just about everything worth knowing, though he may not be a president or doctor, lawyer or merchant chief. Dr. H. W. Smith rose to the occasion and graciously tendered a very worthwhile toast to the sons.

The vocal quartette comprised of Messrs. John Seivert, George Fugger, J. S. Vineyard and Charles Fugger, rendered two selections, "The Church by the Side of the Road" and "Old Grandfather's Clock." Rev. Thomas Bass then introduced the speaker of the hour, Rev. Dr. M. L. Pontius, of Central Christian church of Jacksonville. Rev. Mr. Pontius amid his flow of humor implanted many serious thoughts in the minds of his hearers.

Closing with the impressive statement that no man or boy or even nation can succeed and leave Jesus Christ and God out of their plans. Ben Roodhouse, an elder in the Central Christian church of Jacksonville, was a guest of this church on this occasion. Rev. Milton Wilson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, spoke the benediction.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurine Gilmore moved from a farm southeast of Roodhouse to a farm owned by Mr. Gilmore, 31 miles east and north of Roodhouse.

A black and white illustration depicting a scene from a story. In the foreground, a man in a dark, heavy coat stands with his hands on his hips, looking towards the right. He is surrounded by a chaotic environment filled with boxes, papers, and various objects. To his right, another man in a light-colored suit and glasses stands holding a book or a set of papers, looking down at them. In the background, two figures in long robes and hats stand near a doorway, looking out. The room appears to be a storage or a workshop, with a ladder visible on the left wall. The overall style is that of a classic comic book illustration.

Former Ayers Bank President Returns To His Home Here

Millard F. Dunlap Arrives Last Night; Lived On Diet Of Milk

Millard F. Dunlap, former president of the Ayers National bank, which closed its doors in November 1932, returned to Jacksonville last night. Mr. Dunlap arrived here with his son, Ralph Dunlap and daughter, Miss Carrie Dunlap, at 7:30 o'clock last night, after having driven by automobile from Springfield, Mo., where Mr. Dunlap was released from the federal prison medical center yesterday morning.

The 79 year old former local banker appeared to have made the trip from Springfield with little discomfort. He feels better now than he has for some months, he stated last night, altho his illness has caused him to lose some weight.

Mr. Dunlap spent 18 months as a prisoner in federal institutions and during that time he was a patient in the federal hospital. He became a patient in the hospital unit at Ft. Leavenworth, Kans., the second day of his incarceration and later he was sent to Springfield, Mo., where the remainder of his time was spent.

Because of his physical condition he was forced to live on an almost complete liquid diet. Mr. Dunlap said last night. With the exception of a raw egg for breakfast his food was milk, his diet establishing a record at the institution.

"I have no complaint to make on the care given me at the hospital center," said Mr. Dunlap. "I was given good care and was not called upon to do any work." He expressed appreciation at having been released yesterday, the act of President Roosevelt in granting executive clemency being highly appreciated. The remittance of a fine of $10,000 imposed at the time he was sentenced gave him freedom otherwise impossible.

In discussing his life at the federal prison medical center Mr. Dunlap said the prison rules were strict and obedience was required. He left the prison with his sentence fully served time being allowed off for good behavior.

The former Ayers' bank president last night described the events that led up to the closing of that institution but only on the stipulation that his discussion be not made public. He said he had been kept informed on events that have transpired here thru letters from friends and thru the news in their various dailies. Local Officials To Visit W. P. A. In Peoria Today

Engineer Stapleton And Alderman Harmon Will Ask Gravel Project

City Engineer Kenneth Stapleton and Alderman Ray Harmon will visit the offices of W. P. A. in Peoria today to gain definite information on the city graveling project that includes Chambers, Myrtle, Howe and several other city streets that need surfacing.

They will also ask for continuance on the Johnson street sewer construction on that job will end Thursday if additional funds are not made available.

The Peoria office will also be asked to grant a time extension on the removal of car tracks. Workmen are now in the 600 block on West State street.

Engineer Stapleton said that further tests were soon to be made on the durability of the pavement on the square. No decision has been made as to the material for resurfacing or the advisability of leaving the old material as a foundation for the new tarmac. Estimates have led to a conclusion that if the latter course is followed, the rails on the square would not be worth salvage and would be left as part of the road foundation.

Prevention work is now under way in both the high school and the Jefferson grade school, he said.

The state department of public health has sent Mrs. Gross here to take charge of the high school, and Dr. Mary Louise Newman has been donating her time for two hours every day in the first ward school. The situation appears to be well in hand in the first ward, and has been showing signs of letting up in the other wards.

In an effort to aid parents in recognizing the symptoms of the disease, Dr. Stoops pointed out some of the early signs. A tired, restless feeling often precedes the actual illness, followed shortly by a sore throat, chill, convulsions and fever. The tongue becomes furred, and under the white covering becomes red and swollen.

In ordinary cases, these early signs are followed in a day or two by a rash. Little flat red points, close together, appear first on the neck and chest and then spread over most of the rest of the body. They are brilliant in color.

The disease is spread through discharges from the nose and throat and sometimes from the ears. The person just coming down with scarlet fever, or in the first stages of the disease, is most likely to give it to others.

In order to protect the rest of the family in homes where the disease has taken root, the person with scarlet fever should be put in a room alone. Persons entering the room should wear a loose kimono over their clothing, and a cloth covering over their hair. Hands and face should be washed with warm running water, and the hands rinsed in a solution of a disinfectant after the person has been in the room.

Three Men Arrested As Sheriff Probes Robberies At Farms

Alleged Hog Thieves Jailed; Two Men Sign Statement After Questioning

Morgan county officials Monday were in the midst of what they termed a general roundup of alleged hog thieves, who have been operating extensively in this community during the last month. Three men are in jail; several others are sought, and hogs stolen at two farms in the county have been recovered and returned to the owners.

Confessions are reported to have been made by two of the prisoners, and these implicate three other persons. All of the prisoners are residents of Beardstown, now held in the local jail.

"We have been going day and night, and believe we have plenty of evidence to convict several persons of these jobs," Sheriff Kenneth Woods said. The sheriff and State's Attorney W. H. Ashber obtained confessions after a long session of questioning.

The prisoners are Willard (Burr) Hageman, 35; James Wheatley Wood, 24; both of whom have made written statements, and Wood's father, William Wood, who denies a part in the local jail.

Warrants charging Hageman and the younger Wood with larceny have been sworn out in the court of Justice C. S. Smith, but the defendants have not yet been arraigned. It is reported that warrants for several others have been issued, but these have not yet been served as the persons cannot be located.

Three Separate Thefts

At least three thefts are involved in the investigation, according to the sheriff and his deputies. Two hogs belonging to Joseph Zeller, stolen from his farm south of Alexandria, were recovered at Bluffs where they were sold at the stockyards. Two more, taken from John Laurent's farm on the night of March 3, also were located at Bluffs.

The third theft, that of six hogs, occurred on the night of March 6 at Harry Ruyle's farm south of Murrayville.

Receiving a tip that the hogs were being marketed at Bluffs, Morgan county officers hit the trail and stayed on it until several of the accused persons were jailed.

Hageman and Wood were traced through a check cashed at a Jacksonville lunch room. Both denied knowledge of any livestock transactions, but later admitted getting the hogs and selling them, according to the sheriff.

Sheriff Woods and Deputies Cook, Wegeholt and Stromwalt have spent the last week investigating the case, and have traveled several hundred miles running down the various angles. They expect that more arrests will be made shortly.

In bringing about the arrests the local officers received full cooperation from Chief of Police Harold Webster of Beardstown, and Sheriff Gus Campbell of Cass county.

Former Ayers Bank President Returns To His Home Here

Millard F. Dunlap Arrives Last Night; Lived On Diet Of Milk

Millard F. Dunlap, former president of the Ayers National bank, which closed its doors in November 1932, returned to Jacksonville last night. Mr. Dunlap arrived here with his son, Ralph Dunlap and daughter, Miss Carrie Dunlap, at 7:30 o'clock last night, after having driven by automobile from Springfield, Mo., where Mr. Dunlap was released from the federal prison medical center yesterday morning.

The 79 year old former local banker appeared to have made the trip from Springfield with little discomfort. He feels better now than he has for some months, he stated last night, altho his illness has caused him to lose some weight.

Mr. Dunlap spent 18 months as a prisoner in federal institutions and during that time he was a patient in the federal hospital. He became a patient in the hospital unit at Ft. Leavenworth, Kans., the second day of his incarceration and later he was sent to Springfield, Mo., where the remainder of his time was spent.

Because of his physical condition he was forced to live on an almost complete liquid diet. Mr. Dunlap said last night. With the exception of a raw egg for breakfast his food was milk, his diet establishing a record at the institution.

"I have no complaint to make on the care given me at the hospital center," said Mr. Dunlap. "I was given good care and was not called upon to do any work." He expressed appreciation at having been released yesterday, the act of President Roosevelt in granting executive clemency being highly appreciated. The remittance of a fine of $10,000 imposed at the time he was sentenced gave him freedom otherwise impossible.

In discussing his life at the federal prison medical center Mr. Dunlap said the prison rules were strict and obedience was required. He left the prison with his sentence fully served time being allowed off for good behavior.

The former Ayers' bank president last night described the events that led up to the closing of that institution but only on the stipulation that his discussion be not made public. He said he had been kept informed on events that have transpired here thru letters from friends and thru the news in their various dailies. "The 'Hops' will take place this Friday, March 20, in the David Prince gymnasium. The program of dance music will start about 8:30. Goos' Orchestra has been engaged to supply the music.
